

It is a treat to be able to sit at the dinner table and not having unwanted telephone calls. Please keep the 'do not call" list as is. Dinner time is usually the only time many families are together in conversation, and that should not be interruted.